

Travel grants: application form

Thanks to the generous support of the Gerda Henkel Foundation, the 19th International Congress of Classical Archaeology is pleased to offer travel grants (to help cover flight, public transport & accommodation expenses) up to a maximum amount of 300 Euro. The funding is available to scientists in need and coming from specific countries (see list on our website).

The requirements are:

- evidence of participation with paper presentation (booking confirmation and abstract can also be checked in your Conference Control Center on Converia: <https://events.uni-koeln.de/frontend/index.php?sub=25>)
- completed application form
- scanned passport

The scientific committee will decide on the acceptance of each proposal. The refunds will be allocated at the conference, upon demonstration of receipts.
